

A burglary upon an armored door once seemed to be impossible. Now, such thing is only a dream, as security locks are breached every day. Though many claim that they have found ways to improve security, they cannot keep up with the thieves.

Who can guarantee your absolute security?

Saimon Bros, in collaboration with SecuRAM Systems Inc. USA, announces the official debut into the modern European market of hi-tech, anti-theft electronic locks with the E-ternal™ trademark, exclusively for armored doors.

The new entry of the forthcoming, high-quality product, E-ternal™ Lock, marks the end to an era of proficient burglars, who are specialized in breaching advanced security. A need for a change in security is necessary for the most effective security, protecting all of the valuables you leave behind in the places you live, you work, and cultivate your dreams.

No one can trivialize with your security. Your security decisions should not be delayed. Every day without security is a danger to everything you value. The simple choice is this: E-ternal™ Lock.
